RobergeDesign Announces Launch of Redesigned
Chester, NH Town Website

Chester, NH, April 14, 2004 — RobergeDesign today announced the launch of the redesigned Website for the Town of Chester, New Hampshire. The site can be accessed at www.chesternh.org.

“We created a unique, small-town look-and-feel interface for Chester's informational Website,” said Daniel Roberge, Principal of RobergeDesign. “Through an eye-catching design and well-planned navigation structure, the site allows the town to more effectively communicate with current residents as well as those looking to move to Chester.”

Special features of the redesigned site include quick-reference portals that help users quickly and efficiently access information about Town Departments, Schools, and upcoming Recreation Activities for families and seniors. New site highlights include a scrolling schedule of upcoming town meetings, a quick phone list of important town contact numbers, a directory of Local Businesses, and a special section for New Residents.

“The primary goal of all our sites is to open the lines of communication between the organization and its constituents or target audience,” said Roberge. “The site now showcases Chester’s heritage, resources, government, community, organizations, and local activities in a way that informs visitors and excites them to return again and again.”
